Homecoming Edition

October 1964

OVER 300 of the 1964 Homecoming crowd at George P. Miller Stadium witness as Sigma Tau Gamma's "Hershey" is awarded first prize in the parade of floats. More than 30,000 alumni, friends, and the general public viewed the mammoth parade as it moved through the stadium to the stadium where the awards were made.

Each individual having written for this year's issue is asked to contribute as much information as possible. This includes complete details of birth, education, occupation, present address, and where, how, and why.

News Bulletins are published in November, December, March, and June of each year at the first of the respective months. The deadline for each issue is 15 days prior to the printing date. The November issue for the December issue should be available by October 15.

Alumni Executive Council Meeting Secretary's Minutes

Saturday, May 23, 1964, Cogswell Auditorium

The Alumni Day meeting of the Executive Council of the General Alumni Association was called to order on Saturday, May 23, 1964, at 9:30 a.m. in Cogswell Auditorium, by the President, Miss Helen M. Brennan. She opened the meeting with appropriate remarks, and asked for a motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the previous Executive Council meeting inasmuch as they had been published in the December 1963 Alumni News Bulletin. Motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes was made by Mrs. Sally Johnson and seconded by Mrs. Elizabeth McCune McClure, and duly passed. Miss Brennan stated that the Alumni News Bulletin is "our Bible" and contains all news concerning the college; hence all alumni should read and re-read it.

The Treasurer's report was given by Miss Mary L. Esch

Motion to accept the report was duly made, seconded, and passed. The Treasurer was instructed to file the report.

President Brennan stated that we have three very important projects which are vital and active, the first of which is the Annual Giving Program. She called on Mrs. Audrey Graham, Chairman, to give a report on this project.

Mrs. Graham reported that we have had the Annual Giving Program since 1961 and at that time the contributions averaged between $5.00 and $6.00 per person. It is not so much the amount of the contribution, she remarked, but the number of persons who contributed that has caused the fund to grow. The total contributions for the year 1963-64 amount to $4,679.00 with 861 contributors. This fund has been divided into two accounts — the Savings Account where we have the Life Membership Fees (211) and the Checking Account. The balance in the Savings Account, including interest, is $5,880.71, and the balance in the Checking Account is $5,979.77.

Miss Brennan commented that even though we are on the right track, we will still be run over if we just sit content with our accomplishments.

A question from the floor asked whether the more recent classes are contributing to the Annual Giving Fund; and Miss Esch stated that, while we are getting some contributions, the younger graduates are sending in the $2.00 alumni dues in order to receive the Alumni News Bulletin and some comment that they will contribute to the other fund when their financial status permits.

Mrs. Flossie Sanford, chairman of the Jennie M. Ackerman Student Loan Fund, could not be present for this meeting since she had just terminated her office as President of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs, but she will be present at the 10:30 a.m General Alumni Meeting. In her absence, Mrs. Sally Johnson presented the following report on the Jennie M. Ackerman Student Loan Fund:

First Solicitation—May 1, 1963 to April 30, 1964

	Number of Co Contributors	Contributions	Average Contribution
Alumni	314	$3,794.30	$12.00
Faculty	45	420.00	9.00
Friends	3	33.00	11.00
TOTAL	362	$4,247.30	$12.00
Second Solicitation—May 1964	138	$1,849.25	$13.00
GRAND TOTAL	500	$6,096.55	$12.00

Miss Esch added that 22 loans were made from the fund — 21 in the amount of $200.00 each and 1 for $150.00. These loans were made for a period of one year at an interest rate of 2%.

Miss Brennan then stated that she thinks an important part of the student loan fund is that the money will come back and with interest. Next year, she said, we shall receive another report and I hope that we will be able to aid at least 50 more students.

In reporting on the Alumni News Bulletin, Mr. Samuel F. Furgivele stated that when Miss Esch read the Treasurer's Report he noticed that the bulletins cost $3,123.08 for the four (4) issues. He suggested that the alumni might wish to discuss this a little later to see if the cost is too much. Increased membership makes it necessary for us to publish more copies of the bulletin, he stated, and he felt that spending a little more to have a better looking bulletin, adding a picture, or using a better grade of paper is worthwhile but that he would be guided by the wishes of the members.

He also expressed his appreciation for the cooperation of the alumni for sending in items of interest for publication in the bulletin. Mr. Furgivele then made the motion to continue the publication of the quarterly Alumni News Bulletin. Motion was seconded by Mrs. Elizabeth McClure. Passed. Mr. Furgivele added that he has seen just one bulletin that is better than ours and this is not because he is doing it; he is just continuing the good policy Dr. Nicholson started.

In speaking of the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges, Mr. Furgivele stated that the alumni no doubt are aware of the increased service and the function of the association. He stated that many people are responsible for the change in thinking about the State Colleges. The United Press International News Paper recently carried a series of editorials written by Mason Denison in which the reasons people should support the State Colleges instead of the private colleges were clearly stated. These articles were widely read and the Council has had hundreds of comments; many were not even from alumni of the State Colleges, but they will support the Council in whatever it might attempt to do.

The group has actively participated in television and radio programs presenting the State College programs and has been in constant touch with legislators, Mr. Furgiuele explained. Recently, Governor Scranton appointed James H. Rowland, Esquire, first president of the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges, as a member to the Council of Higher Education. An article on Mr. Rowland appears in the March 1964 issue of the Alumni Bulletin. He is doing a very fine job for the alumni and will continue to do so. Mr. Furgiuele explained that this is a crucial year, a very active year in higher education circles, particularly in the State Colleges.

He emphasized that we now have a Commission on Higher Education, replacing the old State Council of Education, a change which he thinks will bring some changes to serve the best interests of the State College. He added that he has enjoyed serving on the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges and that he is very happy to have a part in the accomplishments of the group. Finally, he moved that membership in the Council be continued for 1964-65. Motion seconded by Mrs. Elizabeth McClure. Passed.

Dr. Pratt welcomed the group to the campus and stated that 16 years ago this was a very active group with little money. He expressed his appreciation for the work they have done toward the Annual Giving Program, the Jennie M. Ackerman Student Loan Fund, increased enrollment in the Alumni Association — all good projects.

Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson, former editor of the Alumni News Bulletin, was then introduced.

Under new business, the following letter from Mr. Thomas J. Hughes, Assistant Professor, Music Department, was read:

"My dear Miss Brennan,

"At the suggestion of Miss Mary Esch, I am asking you to present the following little project before the Indiana Alumni Association at the earliest opportunity.

"It has been suggested by some of the early music graduates that since the Music Department now has its wonderful new Cogswell Hall, that it would be most fitting to have a painting of Hamlin Cogswell, elegantly hung in the lobby of the building.

"The Music Staff approves the idea and has delegated me to see what can be done to raise the necessary funds to pay for a picture by a good artist. Dr. Pratt thought the Alumni Association might be glad to finance it.

"Dr. Orval Kipp, our worthy Art Department Head, has consented to give us a picture, 25 x 30 inches, for one hundred dollars. This will include the frame.

"Dr. Kipp would work from a fine photograph of Mr. Cogswell, to be lent to him by Mrs. John F. Pound, an early Music Alumna.

"I thank you in advance for presenting this to the Association.

/Signed/ Thomas J. Hughes
Assistant Professor, Music Department"

The comment was made that we have been able to hold our Executive Council meetings in Cogswell Hall Auditorium and enjoyed the hospitality. Mrs. Sally Johnson made the motion that, since all buildings do have portraits, I think it behooves the Alumni Association to cooperate. Motion seconded by Miss Angie Marshall. Passed.

The following recommendations were then made by President Brennan:

1. Cooperate with the All Pennsylvania College Alumni Association of Washington, D.C., in placing a memorial for Mrs. Vashti Burr Whittington, founder of the organization, in the college library in the form of a picture (not a portrait).
2. Cooperate with the Home Economics group of our Alumni Association who are planning to do special things in the Home Economics Building for which the State does not provide in memory of some of the teachers in this department.
3. After Ackerman Hall is completed, place a picture of Miss Ackerman in it.
4. Have Mr. Furgiuele keep alumni informed on the Ackerman Loan Fund by reporting on it in the Alumni News Bulletin.

Mr. Furgiuele presented the following for consideration. He has received materials from a group that sponsors a fund-raising conference and thinks it might be well for Indiana to send a representative. Miss Brennan suggested that Mr. Furgiuele discuss the matter with Mrs. Graham. No action taken.

Mrs. Sally Johnson stated that locally a group of professional and business people are working for the establishment of a Big Indian Fund. They have adopted a constitution and will operate as a corporation under the NCAA code. The board is made up of friends of the college as well as alumni. The dues are $5.00 per year. Through this organization we will get the men active, former athletes of the college are participating. I think they will do our Alumni Association a lot of good and we will do them a lot of good.

Upon motion duly made and seconded, the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Marian I. Francis, Secretary

General Alumni Association Meeting Secretary's Minutes

Saturday, May 23, 1964, Fisher Auditorium

The General Alumni Association Meeting was called to order at 10:45 a.m., Saturday, May 23, 1964, in Fisher Auditorium by the President, Miss Helen M. Brennan. She welcomed the alumni to the 89th Alumni Day and expressed the wish that everyone might have an enjoyable day.

Dr. Arthur F. Nicholson (1938) and Mrs. Elizabeth McCune McClure (1918) escorted the Class of 1964 into the auditorium. Presentation of the class was made by Dr. Nicholson with appropriate remarks; Mr. William H. Klingensmith, President of the Class, responded.

Miss Brennan challenged the class to embark immediately on alumni activities that will reimburse the College, and asked that they keep the Alumni Association informed of their accomplishments.

The motion to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the May 1963 meeting, since they were published in the October 1963 Alumni News Bulletin, was made by Sister Serafina, seconded. Passed.

Miss Mary L. Esch presented the Treasurer's report. See pages 1 and 2 of the Executive Council minutes.)

Mrs. Audrey Graham, Chairman, gave the following financial report on the Annual Giving Fund.

Mrs. Graham added that expenditures were low since all work was donated.

Mrs. Flossie Sanford reported on the Jennie M. Ackerman Student Loan Fund as follows:

First Solicitation—May 1, 1963 to April 30, 1964

	Number of Contributors	Contributions	Average Contribution
Alumni	314	$3,794.30	$12.00

Second Solicitation—May 1964	138	$1,849.25	$13.00
GRAND TOTAL	500	$6,096.55	$12.00

Mrs. Sanford stated that soon letters would be sent to persons who had attended the training school; however, these people are widely scattered and it is difficult to pick up addresses and she requested alumni help in learning the whereabouts of former children of the training school. She then stated that 21 loans of $200.00 each were made from the fund and 1 loan of $150.00.

In reporting on the Alumni News Bulletin and the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges, Mr. Furgiuele stated that since he had given a very lengthy report at the Executive Council meeting he would try to be brief. He stated that the Executive Council had voted to publish the quarterly Alumni Bulletin next year and requested that alumni continue to send in news items and keep up informed of their activities.

Mr. Furgiuele reported: "I am the representative of the Alumni Association to the Council of Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges, an organization which is representing every State College in Pennsylvania, an organization which is strongly active in promoting the cause of the Pennsylvania State Colleges. I am sure you have been reading a great deal and hearing on television and radio much about the State Colleges of Pennsylvania.

"Not all, but a great part of what has been accomplished and what is being done is a result of the organization which supports the State Colleges and promotes their cause. This is a crucial year for the State Colleges—changes have taken place. One of our members, James Rowland, Esquire, a graduate of Cheyney, has been appointed to the Council of Higher Education. The Council of Alumni Associations operates on a small budget. People who serve on the Council undertake expenses personally and they give their time and effort to push the State Colleges to the front. They certainly deserve the support they have had, and the support of all of us in the near future."

In addressing the group, Dr. Pratt spoke of the increased enrollment of the college—4,670 undergraduate students, 550 graduate students; the physical plant. "We are today dedicating buildings 15, 16, and 17, Ackerman, Gordon, and Uhler Halls," he explained. "In the construction state are a new women's dormitory and a new dining room; in the planning stage and to be started this summer are a field house and a science complex."

He also stated that the School of Liberal Arts is growing and that evening classes will be offered this fall. The Research Center, too, is growing under Dr. Leach; the Library has expanded from 30,000 to 100,000 volumes and we now have two off-campus centers—the Punxsutawney Center at Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania, and the Armstrong County Center at Kittanning, Pennsylvania; two new departments are being added—Philosophy and Special Education. Dr. Pratt then stated that he was happy to have the alumni on campus and hoped that they would have a very enjoyable day.

Mr. Donald Groff of the Science Department showed colored slides and gave an interesting talk on the Mastodon recently excavated on a farm owned by Mr. John Lindey near Fayette City, Pennsylvania. The animal is being assembled by the Indiana State College Geology class.

Dr. Herbert Isar of the Foreign Language Department reported on the progress of the Study in Spain Program and again thanked the alumni for their financial assistance.

Miss Nancy Newkerk, Dean of Women, was introduced.

The limitation of time prevented the units from giving their reports at the meeting although two or three reports were heard. Upon motion properly made and seconded, the meeting was adjourned at 12:15 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Marion I. Francis, Secretary

Council of Alumni Associations of The State Colleges of Pennsylvania

Summary of Minutes of September 18 and 19, 1964

The Council of the General Alumni Associations of the Pennsylvania State Colleges met at Harrisburg Friday and Saturday, September 18 and 19, 1964. Representatives of all fourteen state colleges were present, as was Donald Rich of Communication Services, Inc.

Those in attendance were alerted to the probability that additional operating funds, in addition to dues now payable, would be needed in the current year. Members were asked to carry this information back to their associations with the understanding that when and if such funds (probably not to exceed $300) are needed each alumni group would be asked to contribute equal shares for emergency purposes and such request to be accompanied by an itemized statement of specific needs.

The Council also adopted a resolution strongly opposing the lapsing of appropriations (approximately $1 million last year) by the Office of Administration in Harrisburg and called on the Legislature to protect such appropriated funds and insure that this will not be repeated.

A principal item of business was the adoption of the following program by the Council:

1. It is the responsibility of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to provide Public Higher Education and since the 14 State Colleges now represent this Public Higher Education through geographical convenience, reasonable cost, admissions determined by ability, and academic quality; we urge the necessary support to broaden the present offerings of these State Colleges.

2. Keep the cost to the students of Pennsylvania in line with the rest of the country.

3. Council of Higher Education and the Board of Presidents be given autonomy re budget as appropriated, faculty, administration, curriculum, etc.

4. Council of Higher Education and the Board of Presidents shall be responsible for a master plan and implementation so they can meet legislative mandate to provide education for 60,000 students in 1972 and planning for 1990.

5. Legislative and/or administrative action will be taken which will insure that the State Colleges both can and will participate in the provisions of the Federal Higher Education Facilities Act.

Officers for the current year were elected as follows: President - Leon E. Lunn, Vice President - Ernest C. Aharrah, Secretary - Allan D. Paterson, Treasurer - Janice Etshied, Directors - Michael M. Zahorchak and Samuel F. Furguele.

Two Indiana Professors at the End of 1963-64 Year

Dr. Kipp

Two faculty members at Indiana State College with a combined total of 62 years service to the college have recently announced their voluntary retirement, according to President Willis E. Pratt.

They are Dr. Orval Kipp, chairman or director of the art department since 1940 and a member of the faculty since 1936, and C. Melvin Johnson, a member of the social science department faculty since 1930.

Indiana State College recognizes and deeply appreciates the highly commendable contributions both men have made to the college and to education, stated Dr. Pratt in regretfully accepting their resignations.

Active in art and civic affairs since first joining the college staff in 1936, Dr. Kipp became director of the art department in 1940 and served in that capacity until he became chairman in 1957.

Teaching in the schools of Somerset County and later at Derry Township schools in Hershey prior to coming to ISC, Dr. Kipp has taught all levels of art including both graduate and undergraduate courses at Indiana.

Receiving his public school education in his native Somerset County, the artist-educator studied at J. B. Stetson University before receiving his bachelor of arts degree from Carnegie Institute of Technology.

After earning a master of arts degree from Teachers College at Columbia University, Dr. Kipp was granted a doctorate of philosophy from the University of Pittsburgh.

Dr. Kipp has a notable background both in artistic and educational achievements. He is a member of the National Education Association and has served as president and executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Art Education Association.

In 1939 he was program chairman of Eastern Arts convention and chairman of the curriculum committee exhibit from 1953 to 1955. Dr. Kipp is also a member of the Indiana Art Association and Allied Artists of Johnstown.

A member of Associated Artists of Pittsburgh, Dr. Kipp served as vice president of that organization in 1955 and 1956 and as president in 1957 and 1958.

He also holds membership in the American Association of University Professors as well as Phi Delta Kappa, Kappa Delta Pi and Delta Phi Delta honorary fraternities and Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity.

His works have been exhibited numerous times. He has had one-man shows in 1953 and 1954 circulated among colleges and museums by the Studio Guild of New York as well as others at Dickinson College and Zanesville, Ohio.

Dr. Kipp has most recently exhibited at Summer Theater Guild, Indiana State College, in 1960, Mountain Playhouse at Jennerstown in 1961 and at Rhodes R. Stabley Library, Indiana State College, in May of 1964.

Author of the book Composing With A Camera and founder of the Kipp Art Service in Indiana, he has recently been honored by both the college Faculty Association and by Pennsylvania art educators at a recent conference.

C. Melvin Johnson, who holds the distinction of being the faculty member presently associated with Indiana State College who has been with the college longest in point of service, has served on the ISC faculty for the past 34 years.

He has been in education for a total of 44 years, teaching in Oklahoma, Kansas (including a summer at Kansas State College), Illinois and Michigan for the six years 1920-26 before serving four years at Carnegie Institute of Technology from 1926 to 1930.

A teacher of history and philosophy at Indiana since 1930, Mr. Johnson majored in these fields in his bachelor of arts program at Muskingum College, after which the University of Chicago conferred upon him a master of arts degree in history.

Further graduate work was completed at Chicago and at the University of Pittsburgh, including all work but a final dissertation toward a doctorate of philosophy in the history of Latin America.

This dissertation, virtually completed and ready for final approval, was burned in the famed Leonard Hall fire of 1954 at the then Indiana State Teachers College in which the entire classroom building was destroyed.

"Pop" Johnson, as he is known to students and faculty alike, has been a member of the National Education Association since 1920 and of the Pennsylvania State Education Association since 1930 as well as of the Pennsylvania State Council for Social Studies.

He has been particularly active as adviser to the Pi Chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma social fraternity at Indiana since 1935 and a member of Kiwanis International since 1941.

Thirty-eight New Faculty Join Indiana Staff

Thirty-eight new faculty members have joined the professional staff at Indiana State College for the 1964-65 academic year. These additions and replacements brings the total number of faculty at Indiana to 278.

Assigned to the Art Department is James N. Innes; to the Business Education Department, Albert R. McClure and Ruth S. Morris; Melinda Y. Small to the Education-Psychology Department; Herbert G. Wenger to Elementary Education Department; Dorothy W. Gourley, Charles D. Mahan, Mabel W. Riddle, Betty R. Ritch, and Michael L. Smith to the English Department.

Appointed to the Foreign Languages Department are Fernand Fisel, Antonio M. Guardiola, Robert W. Jones, Ludo op de Beeck, Bernard Roffman, and Matthew H. Volm; Gopal S. Kulkarni to the Geography Department, Sandra Joan Bezila to Health and Physical Education; and Yu-Chen Liu to Home Economics.

James N. Innes who is assistant professor of art received his B.F.A. and M.F.A. degrees from the Kansas City Art Institute of Missouri and has taken additional graduate work at the Theological School of the St. Lawrence University in New York. Most recently he served as assistant professor of art at Waynesburg College. Prior to that for three years he was assistant professor at Central Methodist College, Fayette, Missouri.

Albert R. McClure serves as an instructor in the business education department at the Punxsutawney Center. He received his B.S. from Indiana State College and has completed 24 credits toward his M.S. at Indiana.

Mr. McClure's teaching experience includes assignments at the Pennsylvania Rehabilitation Center, Johnstown; United Joint Schools, Armagh; and the Detroit Public Schools of Michigan.

He has had six years business experience as the assistant manager of the G. C. Murphy Company in McKeesport, and two years as an accounting clerk with the Crane Company of Johnstown.

Mrs. Ruth S. Morris is a part-time instructor in the business education department at the Armstrong County Center. She received her B.A. from Pennsylvania State University, her M.A. from Bucknell University, and has taken additional graduate work at Penn State.

Mrs. Morris has had five years high school teaching experience and served six years on the business education faculty at Lycoming College, Williamsport, Pa.

Mrs. Melinda Y. Small, instructor in the education-psychology department, received her B.S. and M.A. degrees from St. Lawrence University. She has taken additional work at Edinburg University in Scotland, Munich University in Germany, and Indiana State College, Indiana, Pa.

She has had three years experience as camp counselor at Wyonegonic Camp in Maine and assistant librarian at the Westport Public Library in Maine.

Herbert G. Wenger, associate professor of elementary education, received his B.S. from Milwaukee State Teachers College, his M.S. and additional graduate work at the University of Wisconsin.

Before coming to Indiana Mr. Wenger taught in the Milwaukee Public Schools for eleven years. In 1963-64 he served as supervisor of student teaching in the elementary education program at the University of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Dorothy W. Gourley has been appointed instructor of English at the Punxsutawney Center. She received her B.S. from Indiana State College and is currently taking graduate work toward her master's degree at ISC. For the past three years she has been a teacher of English at the Punxsutawney Area Schools.

Charles D. Mahan is an assistant professor in the English Department. He received his A.B. from Marshall College, Huntington, West Virginia, and his M.A. from the University of Kentucky. He also received a certificate of attendance from Oxford University in England.

During his eleven years of teaching experience he served at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Boyd County High School of Kentucky, University of Kentucky, and Rollins College in Winter Park, Florida.

Mrs. Mabel W. Riddle serves as instructor in the English department at the Armstrong County Center. She received her A.B. from Muskingum College, and her M.A. from Ohio State University.

She has had fourteen years of teaching experience, including six years as an assistant professor at Muskingum College. Other years were spent at Cochran Area Joint Schools; Cambridge, Ohio, Public Schools; and Etan, Ohio, Consolidated Schools.

Betty R. Ritch has been assigned as associate professor in the English department. She received her B.A. from Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Oklahoma, and her M.A. from Oklahoma State University. She has taken additional graduate work at Boston University.

She has been an assistant professor of English at Northeastern State College in Oklahoma for the past seven years. Prior to that she had four years experience in teaching English in high school.

Michael L. Smith, assistant professor of English, received his A.B. and M.A. equivalent from the Missouri University. He has taken additional undergraduate work at San Diego University and St. Louis University; and graduate work at South Carolina University.

For the past four years, Mr. Smith has been an English instructor at the Augusta College in Georgia. Prior to that he taught for one year at the Winthrop College at Rock Hill, South Carolina.

Fernand Fisel, associate professor in the foreign languages department, received his A.B. from the Atlantic Union College of South Lancaster, Massachusetts, and his A.M. from Andrews University of Michigan. He has completed course work for his doctor's degree at Dropsie College in Philadelphia, and taken additional graduate work at Fernand Guillot in Paris, France. Mr. Fisel has taught French for the past ten years in such places as the Episcopal Academy, Overbrook, Pa.; and Girard College in Philadelphia.

Antonio M. Guardiola, an instructor in the foreign languages department, received his teachers degree from the Normal School in Havana, Cuba, and his Doctor of Pedagogy Degree from the University of Havana. Prior to leaving Cuba, Dr. Guardiola was a teacher and then the principal of the San Antonio Vegas Elementary School from 1943 to 1959. From 1959 to 1961 he was a teacher at the San Antonio High School in San Antonio de las Vegas, Cuba, and then gave private lessons until 1963 when he came to America.

Robert W. Jones, assistant professor in the foreign languages department, received his B.A. from the University of Wisconsin and his M.A. from the National University of Mexico. He has taken additional credits at Marquette University and Pallottine College, both in Wisconsin. He also attended the NDEA Summer Institute in Russian at Northwestern University in 1962.

Mr. Jones comes to Indiana after teaching one year at Clarion State College. Prior to his college teaching he was an instructor of Spanish in the Palmyra Public Schools, Wild Rose Public Schools, and St. John's Military Academy, all located in Wisconsin. In 1957, he taught American to the Cubans and Spanish to the Americans at the Lafayette School in Havana, Cuba.

Lupo op de Beeck is an instructor in the foreign languages department. He received the equivalent of the Master's Degree from the University of Antwerp. His experience includes teaching French at the Brentwood High School in Pittsburgh and the Norman School at Antwerp, Belgium. At various times he also has taught German.

Bernard Roffman, assistant professor of foreign languages, received his B.S. from New York University and his M.A. from Fordham University. He has taken additional graduate work at U.C.L.A., U.C. at Berkeley and the New School for Social Research in New York.

For the past two years, Mr. Roffman has been a teacher of Russian and English in the high schools of New York City. From 1955 to 1962 he taught high school English at Walton High School, New York; Bronx Junior High School, New York; Commerce High School, New York; and Centennial High School in California.

Matthew H. Volm, associate professor in the foreign languages department, received the equivalent of a bachelor's degree from the University of Munich and his Ph.D. from the University of Virginia.

For the past thirty-five years, Dr. Volm has taught German and Russian at the University of Virginia. From 1927-1929 he was an instructor in German and French at the Virginia Military Institute.

Gopal S. Kulkarni, assistant professor in the geography department, received his B.S. from Karnatak College, Dharwar, India, and his M.S. from Hindu University, Varanasi, India. He took additional undergraduate work at Lingraj College, Belgaum, India, and graduate work toward his doctor's degree at the University of Pittsburgh.

Mr. Kulkarni has most recently served as a teaching fellow at the University of Pittsburgh. While in India he was a geography instructor and head of the department of geography at the N. Wadia College in Poona.

Sandra Joan Bezila, instructor in the health and physical education department, received the B.S. degree from Slippery Rock State College and has taken additional graduate work at the Pennsylvania State University and Slippery Rock State College.

Miss Bezila taught physical education and eighth grade science in the North Hills Joint Schools for one year and health and physical education at Allegheny Valley Joint High School for two years prior to her coming to Indiana.

Yu-Chen Liu, associate professor in the home economics department, received her B.A. from Cheeloo University, China, her M.S. from Oregon State College, and her Ph.D. from Oregon State University. She has taken additional graduate work at Cornell University.

She has had seven years' experience as an instructor of home economics at Barber-Scotia College, Concord, North Carolina, and four years' experience at Hampton Institute, Hampton, Virginia.

Katheryne Mallino has joined the library staff; James H. Maple, Doyle R. McBride, Ronald McBride, and Dale M. Shafer have been assigned to the Mathematics Department; Wallis D. Braman and C. Robert Wiggins to the Music Department; James McKeldin to the Philosophy Department; Edward G. Coleman, Bojana Kabalin, Jacob A. Rinker, and John H. Scroxtan as members of the Science Department; Joseph P. Boyle, Jr., Patrick Carone, and Richard E. Tontarski in Social Studies; Maude O. Brungard, Marshall Flamm, Morton Morris, and Seymour Schwartz to the Special Education Department.

Mrs. Katheryne Mallino, assistant professor in the library, received her B.S. from Clarion State College, her M.S. from Drexel Institute of Technology and has taken additional graduate work at the University of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Mallino most recently served as coordinator of science and regional campus libraries with the University of Pittsburgh Library. Prior to that she was the school librarian in the Carnegie School District.

James H. Maple, associate professor in the mathematics department, received his B.S. from California State College, California, Pa., his M.A. from Bowling Green State University of Ohio, and has taken additional work at Kent State University and Purdue University. He has had five years teaching experience in Norwalk, Connecticut, and Euclid and Lorain, Ohio.

Doyle R. McBride, associate professor of mathematics, received his B.S. from Defiance College, and his M.A. from the Indiana University. He has taken additional graduate work at Harvard University.

He has been a mathematics teacher at the Ayersville School in Defiance, Ohio, North Richland-Adams School, Jewell, Ohio, and the Kunkle School, Kunkle, Ohio. From 1954 to 1956 he served with the U.S. Counter Intelligence Corps.

Ronald L. McBride, assistant professor of mathematics, received his B.S. and M.A. from Bowling Green State University in Ohio. He has taken additional work at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Mr. McBride spent the last year as an assistant professor of mathematics at the East Stroudsburg State College. Prior to that he was a mathematics teacher at Lompoe Unified School District in California, and taught for three years at the Lyons High School in Ohio.

Dale M. Shafer, associate professor of mathematics, received his B.S. from Kutztown State College, his M.A. from Columbia University, and has taken additional graduate work at Lehigh University, University of Pittsburgh, and University of Oklahoma.

From 1959-1961, he was chairman of the math department at Oley High School in Oley, Pennsylvania, and since 1961 an assistant professor of mathematics at Slippery Rock State College.

Wallis D. Braman, associate professor in the music department, received his B.S.M. from Baldwin-Wallace College, his M.M. and Ph.D. from Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester.

Dr. Braman has had twenty-six years of teaching experience including 15 years as professor of music and head of the music department at West Liberty State College in West Virginia. He also taught at the Oberlin Conservatory of Music in Ohio.

C. Robert Wigness, instructor in the music department, received his B.M.E. from Morningside College, Sioux City, Iowa, and his M.M. from Boston University.

For the past two years, Mr. Wigness has served as music director at the Ventura High School in Ventura, Iowa. He has been a music instructor at the Canton High School in Massachusetts and served as the brass sectional instructor for the Greater Boston Youth Orchestra.

James R. McKeldin, associate professor of philosophy, will teach on a part-time basis at the Armstrong County Center at Kittanning, Pa. He will also continue to serve as a lecturer in philosophy at the University of Pittsburgh where he has been since 1957. Dr. McKeldin received his B.A. from the University of Virginia and his Ph.D. from the University of Pittsburgh. He has taken additional work at Yale University, University of Virginia, and Oxford University of England.

Edward G. Coleman, associate professor in the science department, received his B.S. from Wisconsin State College, an M.S. from the University of Wisconsin, and an M.S. from Carnegie Institute of Technology.

Mr. Coleman was a secondary school teacher in the Beaver Area Schools prior to coming to Indiana. He has done research work with the Armour Research Foundation of Chicago and the Allen Bradley Company of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Bojana Kabalin, associate professor in the science department, received her bachelor's degree from the University of Zagreb, Yugoslavia, her master's degree from Northwestern University, and her doctor's degree from the University of Rome.

Dr. Kabalin taught for three years at the Bacteriological Institute in Santiago, Chile; for six years at the Northwestern University Medical School in Chicago, Illinois; and most recently at the Mt. Zion Hospital and Medical Center in San Francisco, California.

Jacob A. Rinker, associate professor in the science department, received his B.S. from Eureka College and his M.S. from the University of Chicago. He is a professor emeritus of Eureka College where he served a total of forty-three years, both as a teacher of physics and as head of the department of physics.

John H. Scroxton, associate professor of science, received his B.A. and M.S. from Alfred University. He has taken additional graduate work at Colgate University, West Virginia University, and the University of Rochester.

From 1962 to 1964, Mr. Scroxton served as science coordinator for the Lyndonville Central Schools of Lyndonville, New York. Prior to this he had served as a science teacher at the Scio Central High School in Scio, New York. He also served for one year as a chemistry laboratory assistant at the Jamestown Malleable Iron Company in New York doing analysis of iron.

Joseph P. Boyle, Jr., associate professor in the social studies and philosophy departments, received his B.A. from Siena College, Loudonville, New York, the M.A. from New York State University, and has taken additional graduate work toward his Ph.D. at Syracuse University, Harvard University and Boston University.

Prior to coming to Indiana, Mr. Boyle taught philosophy at Stephen F. Austin State College in Texas for two years; and English, psychology and philosophy at Hudson Valley Community College in New York for four years. He was also a teacher of English at LaSalle Institute in New York for one year, Wilbur Lynch High School of New York for three years and Albany Public Schools of New York for three years.

Patrick A. Carone, assistant professor in the social studies department, received his A.B. and M.A. from West Virginia University, and is presently a candidate for his Ph.D. at Duke University. He has taken additional graduate work at Columbia University, University of Pittsburgh, and the University of Rome. In 1958, Mr. Carone was a teaching fellow at the University of Pittsburgh for one year. He also served as an instructor at West Virginia University for two years and at Duke University for one semester while doing graduate work.

Richard E. Tontarski, associate professor in the social studies department, received his bachelor's degree from Union College, Schenectady, New York, and the master's degree from Georgetown University. He has completed all of the course work for the doctor's degree at the Georgetown University.

His teaching experience includes seven years in the public schools and five years as a Research Analyst in the Library of Congress.

Maude Brungard serves as professor and Director of the Speech and Hearing Clinic. She received her B.S. from Lock Haven State College, her M.Ed. and D.Ed. from Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Brungard most recently served as supervisor of speech and hearing with the Department of Public Instruction in Harrisburg. Prior to that she was speech and hearing supervisor in the Centre County Schools for 8 years; instructor of clinical speech at Penn State for 3 years; and teacher in the Lamar Township Schools of Salona, Pa. for 14 years.

Marshall G. Flamm, associate professor in the special education department, received his A.B. from the University of Pennsylvania, his A.M. from Temple University, and is currently completing his doctoral dissertation for his Ph.D. from the Pennsylvania State University.

Mr. Flamm was most recently clinical instructor of speech pathology and audiology at Western Reserve University. While a student at Penn State, he was a research assistant in a project by the Office of Health, Education and Welfare of the U. S. Government.

Morton Morris has been appointed a professor and chairman of the special education department. He received his A.B. from the City College of New York, his M.A. from New York University, and his Ed.D. from Columbia University.

Dr. Morris has served the past two years as supervisor of special education at the Westmoreland County Public Schools in Greensburg. Prior to that he was coordinator of programs for exceptional children for the Department of Public Instruction, Harrisburg. From 1948-1957 he was a teacher of special education for the New York City Board of Education in Brooklyn, New York.

Seymour Schwartz, associate professor in the special education department, received his B.A. from Brooklyn College, his M.A. from the Teachers College of Columbia University, and is a candidate for a Ph.D. from Pennsylvania State University. Most recently, Mr. Schwartz was a speech instructor at the Bridgewater State College in Bridgewater, Massachusetts. Prior to that he served as a speech consultant at the Ridgefield Public Schools of Connecticut, a speech therapist in the Norwalk Public Schools and Windham Public Schools, both in Connecticut.

Enrollment Growth Continues: 1964-65 Sets New Record

Despite quotas established by the Department of Public Instruction, and attempts by the College Admissions Office to hold enrollments down, 4,577 full time undergraduate students have enrolled at Indiana for the 1964-65 term, according to President Willis E. Pratt.

This marks the tenth consecutive year that Indiana has achieved a new enrollment record, Dr. Pratt said.

Mary L. Esch, college Registrar, reports that of the 4,577 full time students, 191 have been admitted to the Armstrong County Center at Kittanning, and 130 to the Punxsutawney Center, leaving 4,256 at the main campus.

In addition to the above figures, 15 students are enrolled in the nurses training program on a full time basis.

The 4,592 figure represents an increase of approximately 300 students over last year's 4,300. In 1962-63 the figure stood at 3,808; in 1961-62 it was 3,504; and 3,125 in 1960-61.

Not included in the above figures are 383 part time students. Of these, 328 are enrolled at the main campus, 48 at the Armstrong County Center, and 7 at Punxsutawney.

An additional 70 part time students are enrolled in the Liberal Arts Evening Program, which is in its first year at the college.

Reports are that an additional 585 have enrolled in the graduate school of the college. This makes a grand total of 5,630 students enrolled at the college this year.

Of the 4,577 full time students enrolled, approximately 2,500 are women and 2,100 are men. Of the 4,256 enrolled at the main campus, approximately 1,900 women and 600 men are boarding students. The remaining 1,750 are day students, commuting students, and students doing their practice teaching in the public schools.

Of the 4,577 full time undergraduate students enrolled at the college, 550 are pursuing studies in the School of Liberal Arts, with the remainder in the School of Education.

In order to accommodate the increased enrollment, the college has added fourteen new faculty members to its staff, bringing the total faculty to 278, according to President Pratt.

Graduate Fellowship Awarded

The first Theta Xi Graduate Fellowship at Indiana State College has been awarded to Miss Lois Solomon of 1041 Eighth Avenue, Brackenridge.

The Fellowship, which carries with it a stipend of $1,000, will permit half-time graduate study and require half-time participation in the Theta Xi study of "Student Values and the College Experience."

Miss Solomon received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Indiana in May, 1964, with the distinction of Magna Cum Laude. She is now a full time graduate student.

Scholarship Fund Established

A scholarship loan fund, totaling $1,000.00, was recently established at Indiana State College by friends and relatives of Robert G. Bellis, Indiana graduate who died in January, 1964.

The Robert Bellis Scholarship Loan Fund, as the memorial will be known, will be used to grant loans to deserving students, preferably to juniors or seniors, interest free the first year and at a very small interest rate beginning with the second.

The committee which established the memorial to Robert Bellis was composed of Mrs. John F. Brougher of Carlisle, Pennsylvania, chairman, and the following members: Gerald Leidy, Dick Bentz, and New Wert.

Central Western Education Conference

The twenty-fifth annual Central Western Pennsylvania Education Conference will be held Monday and Tuesday, October 5 and 6, 1964, on the campus of Indiana State College, according to Dr. A. Dale Allen, Conference Chairman and Assistant Dean of the School of Education at the college.

Dr. T. M. Stinnett, Assistant Executive Secretary for Professional Development and Welfare of the NEA, will deliver the keynote address at the opening meeting, Monday, October 5, at 9 a.m. in Fisher Auditorium. The subject of Dr. Stinnett's address will be "Focus On Educational Change."

Dr. J. Steele Gow, Director of the Learning, Research, and Development Center at the University of Pittsburgh, and Dr. Everett A. Landin, Area Projects Coordinator in the Department of Public Instruction, will be the principal speakers at the second general meeting of the conference scheduled for Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Fisher Auditorium. The two speakers have chosen as the title of their address "Cacophony to Concord."

The third general meeting is scheduled Tuesday, October 6, at 9 a.m. in Fisher Auditorium. Dr. Ernest O. Melby, distinguished Professor of Education at Michigan State University, will address the conference on the subject "Human Relationships and Their Importance in America's Public Schools."

A fourth general meeting features Edward Tomlinson, distinguished speaker, author, and editor, speaking on the subject "What Lies Ahead for the United States in Latin America." This meeting is scheduled for Fisher Auditorium Tuesday, October 6, at 2:30 p.m.

In addition to the four general meetings noted above, the conference will feature meetings of the various academic and administrative departments, and a series of clinics dealing with thirty-seven areas of interest to educators.

An additional highlight is the up-to-date exhibit of School Publishers and Supply Houses in Waller Gymnasium.

Enrollment for January Partially Closed

Dr. James W. Laughlin, College Director of Admissions, has announced that enrollment for boarding women for the semester beginning in January, 1965, has been closed. Applications from men students and day students, however, are still being accepted.

September, 1964, admissions numbered 1500, he said. These were selected from a total of approximately 6,000 applicants, most of whom were fully qualified for admission, he added.

Of the number admitted for September, approximately 700 are men and 800 are women. About 300 of these students will be enrolled in the Liberal Arts program, and the remainder in the School of Education.

Graduate enrollments have also been increasing steadily, Dr. Laughlin explained. Approximately 800 students are currently enrolled in this program which leads to the degree of Master of Education.

The completion of a new women's dormitory in January 1965, to accommodate 300 students, will make it possible for the college to increase its enrollment. Additional dormitory and classroom space is planned for the future to allow a steadily increasing growth in student population, he concluded.

New Dorm Honors John P. Elkin

The new women's dormitory currently under construction at the corner of Oakland Avenue and School Street was named John P. Elkin Hall by the Indiana State College Board of Trustees at their meeting held at the College Lodge Saturday, July 11, 1964.

The new five story building, which is scheduled for completion in January, 1965, honors a person who gave many years of devoted service to the college, to the community, and to the state.

John Elkin graduated from the Indiana State Normal School in 1880. The following year he entered the University of Michigan Law School, graduating in 1884.

After being admitted to the Bar the same year, he opened law offices in Indiana.

Mr. Elkin served as a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in 1885 and 1887; deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth from 1895 to 1899, and Attorney General from 1899 to 1903.

In 1902 he was the Republican candidate for governor. Several years later he was appointed an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

As chairman of the Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania, Mr. Elkin served as delegate to numerous Republican state and national conventions.

Mr. Elkin was president of the Farmer's Bank of Indiana; president of the Indiana Board of Education; and a Trustee of the State Normal School in which capacity he served for 29 years, 17 of them as vice president.

In naming the new building in honor of Mr. Elkin, the Board re-named the present Elkin House the Art Education Annex.

Campus Undergoes Further Change

Visitors to the Indiana State College campus will notice some very definite changes in its physical appearance. For example, the row of buildings which were located along Pratt Drive, just south of the greenhouse, are no longer there. In their place has been constructed an attractive paved parking lot which accommodates 81 automobiles.

A second change can be observed on the southwest corner of Eleventh and Grant Streets. Here, in place of the half dozen or so private dwellings which formerly occupied the area, can be seen heavy equipment, building materials, etc. When completed, this will be the new dining hall.

This modern building, designed by Joseph Hoover, Pittsburgh architect, will include facilities for feeding 1,000 students at a time (250 in each of four separate dining areas), thus accommodating easily the 2,000 students who will be using the new dining hall each day.

In addition to the main dining room, the new structure, which will cost $1,400,000, will contain a cafeteria designed to accommodate approximately 500 day students and faculty.

Also included in the air conditioned building will be the college post office, a convenient snack bar, a faculty coffee shop, and student lounges.

Plans for the new dining hall, which is to be completed during the second semester of 1964-65, also provide for parking facilities to accommodate approximately 100 automobiles.

A little south of this site can be seen more activity. Here, in the area just north of Miller Stadium, is being erected a $2 million plus field house.

Tentatively set for completion in the fall of 1965, the sprawling 252 by 217 foot structure will accommodate 3,500 spectators in the main gymnasium. However, construction design permit expansion to 5,000 in the future.

In addition to the large gymnasium, the building will contain three handball courts, a regulation competition size swimming pool and a separate diving well, space for approximately 400 spectators at the pool area, four or five classrooms, locker areas, refreshment facilities, faculty office space, a fully-equipped first aid room, areas for physical education, and a film library.

The new building, designed by Bellante and Clauss, Philadelphia architects, will permit four basketball games to be played simultaneously if desired.

Moving to the north end of the campus, the viewer will see an attractive five-story brick building at the corner of Oakland Avenue and School Street. This is the new dormitory, now nearing completion, which will house 300 women students in January, 1965.

Plans for construction in the near future include a large science complex, a research and learning center, and a president's residence — all of which have been approved by the General State Authority — which will cause still further change in the face of the Indiana State College campus in the next several years.

Indiana Plans European Study Tour

The Social Science Department at Indiana State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, will offer a six-credit course entitled "Contemporary Europe" from June 29 to August 18, 1965.

The seven-week tour of Europe will take the students to the Netherlands, Denmark, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, France, and Great Britain. In each country they will attend special lectures devoted to the contemporary European political, social, military, and economic scene.

The cost of the tour has been fixed at $1,250. This includes all expenses except fees payable to Indiana State College.

A tentative itinerary has been prepared by Dr. Raymond L. Lee, chairman of the College Social Science Department, who will serve as the tour's accompanying director.

Applications for the tour are now being accepted. Because of the limited number of tour seats available, these applications will be given a priority number and processed on a first come, first served basis.

Those interested in applying for the tour should write to Dr. John R. Sahli, Publicity Director, European Study Tour, Indiana State College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, for additional information and application forms.

Science Award Given to ISC

Indiana State College has been awarded a National Science Foundation Grant for the purpose of strengthening undergraduate instruction, Dr. Willis E. Pratt, president, was recently informed.

The grant, based on a matching fund arrangement, will be used primarily for the purpose of scientific periodicals in the fields of anthropology and sociology. These additions to the college library will make ISC one of the few Pennsylvania State Colleges having such a collection.

The remainder of the grant will be used to purchase visual aids in the field of anthropology. These will include film slides covering primitive technology, objects connected with religious worship, and artistic efforts of primitive man; and representative reproductions of the fossil ancestry of modern man. Mr. Miles Richardson of the Social Science Department will direct the program.

Research Fund Receives Grant

The Central Research Fund at Indiana State College recently received a $500 grant from the Syntron Foundation.

Dr. Charles Leach, college Director of Research, expressed his sincere appreciation to the Syntron Foundation for the grant, the second received by the Fund to date. The first was a $100 contribution made by the local chapter of Phi Delta Kappa last spring.

The Research Fund, in accepting this contribution, hopes that other gifts will be made by alumni, other business and industrial establishments, and other sources, Dr. Leach added. The only restriction, he explained, is that these contributions may not originate from the Commonwealth or from student fees.

Noted Educator "Retires"

Dr. Margaret Georgeanne McKee, class of 1916, and assistant to the superintendent of Allegheny County Schools, turned the key to her desk over to her successor last June and began what will most likely be an active retirement.

Featured in the Pittsburgh Press following her retirement, Dr. McKee said that she had prepared herself emotionally for retirement and looked forward to the opportunity to do many of the things she feels she wants to do — including another trip to Europe and other travels when she wishes.

The only woman to serve in the administration of the Allegheny County Schools, Dr. McKee has seen many improvements in the schools since the early 1920's. Notable improvements she has seen include more concern for the child, better guidance programs, improved libraries, and better teacher training.

Though she has retired from the Allegheny County Schools, the noted educator will not be idle so far as education is concerned. She is currently a visiting lecturer in education at the University of Maine and George Peabody College in Nashville, Tennessee. She is also consultant to the school program of Richmond, Virginia, and on the planning committee for elementary and secondary education for in-school viewing through Pittsburgh's Educational TV station WQED.

Sarah M. Gallaher Dies at 100

Sarah McCune Gallaher, Indiana grad with the class of 1884, and Cambria County's first and only woman to have served in the state legislature, passed away last July at the age of 100.

Miss Gallaher celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary on June 8 and was showered with a great deal of attention from the press, as well as from her many friends and relatives.

She was well known in education circles, having spent 65 years as an educator, 45 of them as co-principal of a private academy — Halle-sen Place — in Ebensburg. She began her teaching career at the age of 16 in Burnside Township, Clearfield County.

In addition to her work at Halle-sen Place, Miss Gallaher had served as an English instructor at her former Alma Mater in Indiana from 1888 to 1893, and had once established a school in Puerto Rico.

During her varied career, Miss Gallaher also served as associate principal of a college prep school and as a member of the editorial staff of a New York publishing company. She was also active in the women's suffrage movement, as a result of which she was elected to State Legislature in 1923.

Following her retirement from education in 1942, Miss Gallaher returned to the family home in New Washington and remained there until her death.

"I Remember Miss Ackerman"

I REMEMBER MISS ACKERMAN . . . I was only eighteen at the time of my student-teaching in the "Model School" on the Indiana campus—the year the Armistice was signed—but I was old enough to appreciate the privilege of working under Miss Ackerman's guidance. I can still see her at the conferences she used to have with us student-teachers, standing there before us, in the dignified simplicity of a gentlewoman, talking to us about the basic principles of good teaching, and leaving with us pertinent thoughts such as the following:

"Whatever duty is assigned you — be it nothing more than sharpening pencils or cleaning blackboards — do it to the best of your ability."

"Do not leave the classroom as you found it: leave it as you would wish to find it."

"Remember, my dear students, as you do your practice-teaching, remember on what you are practicing. You are practicing on God's masterpiece, on the young minds of boys and girls."

I doubt whether I realized at the time that these simple and humble precepts of Miss Ackerman's are but the work-a-day application of the Golden Rule "in deed and in truth." As I think of them now — two-score-and-five years later — I am impressed to note what they imply: honesty, integrity, nobility of mind, love of one's neighbor, and love of God. These sterling qualities, which thrive best on humility, simplicity, and love, certainly characterize our beloved teacher-of-teachers very faithfully.

The first time I saw Miss Ackerman after my departure from Indiana was at Seton Hill College, where I had the joy of welcoming her on more than one occasion. I remember how genuinely pleased she seemed to be as I appeared in the religious attire of Mother Seton's Sisters of Charity. She greeted me as a colleague, but I felt like a student-teacher in her presence, and I told her so. Miss Ackerman smiled, and continued to inquire about my new work, my endeavors in education, in research, and in other intellectual fields of mutual interest. This first visit was brief, but very refreshing and enjoyable, thanks to Miss Ackerman's regard for the least of her pupils. "I hope to come back soon," she said, as I accompanied her to the door.

Miss Ackerman's last visit to Seton Hill was during the homecoming on the Indiana campus, commemorating the school's seventy-fifth anniversary. It was a pleasant surprise for me to see her (and her companions) at Seton Hill that afternoon. They had gone out for a short drive after the homecoming luncheon, and soon found themselves in the vicinity of Greensburg—they explained—and so they came up our Hill. Miss Ackerman was as charming as ever, and as distinguished-looking as ever, in her characteristic simplicity and humility animated by love. And thus she remained — I am told — the rest of her days, until she was called HOME by Him Who had lent her to us.

May her precious and noble soul rejoice in the Lord for all Eternity!
Sister Maria Serafina Mazza

NOTED ALUMNA PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Mabel Waller Mack, class of 1896, passed away Wednesday, June 24, 1964.

Mrs. Mack had been an ardent supporter of the college throughout most of her life.

From 1920 to 1936, and again from 1944 to 1956, she served as a member of the Indiana State College Board of Trustees. From 1946 until 1956, she further served as vice president of this group.

Mrs. Mack literally grew up on the Indiana State College campus, her father having been for many years one of Indiana's presidents. In recognition of her long life of service to the college, the Indiana Board of Trustees, in 1963, named one of three new girls' dormitories in her honor.

In addition to being associated with the college throughout most of her life, Mrs. Mack had also been a leader in many social, charitable, and church activities in the Indiana area.

An outstanding civic leader among women, Mrs. Mack had been particularly active in various activities of the Graystone United Presbyterian Church in Indiana, where one of the Church classes she taught for a number of years bears her name.

RETIREMENT

Shannock Valley Teachers held a retirement dinner at Marda's, near Kittanning, on May 7, 1964 in honor of Mary Evaline Marshall, 1918, who retired on June 4, 1964 after 42 5/8th years of service.

During her long career, she taught in South Mahoning Township, Sagamore High School, Plumville High School, and the past 18 years at Shannock Valley High.

HEADS MATH DEPARTMENT

Dr. Tullio J. Pignani, 1948, has been appointed new director of the Mathematics Department at East Carolina College.

The new department head had been a member of the math department at the University of Kentucky for eight years prior to his new appointment. He also has taught at the University of North Carolina and Loyola University.

ELECTED TO PRESIDENCY OF NEW JERSEY BEA

Ellis R. Thomas, class of 1952, was elected President of the New Jersey Business Education Association for 1964-65 at their annual spring meeting last April.

Mr. Thomas has been active for several years in the State Association, which represents approximately 1,500 high school and college business education teachers in New Jersey.

At the present time Mr. Thomas is assistant professor of business education at Trenton State College, Trenton, New Jersey. He also serves as president of the Graduate Society of Rider College where he received his M.A. in 1961.

While at Indiana, Mr. Thomas was a member of Delta Sigma Nu Fraternity which he served as vice president and editor of the fraternity yearbook. He also served on the staff of the Penn (college newspaper) and the Cue (college handbook). Active in campus activities, he was also chairman of the freshman and sophomore proms.

Mr. Thomas is married to the former Marianne Thacher, 1952 art graduate.

HOME ECONOMIST NAMED CONTEST JUDGE

Miss Janice Betush, 1961, currently serves as Home Economist for the Peoples Natural Gas Company in the Johnstown area. In charge of home economics activities, her work includes food demonstrations, cooking classes, and home calls.

Recently Miss Betush served as a judge in the 1964 Favorite Recipe Contest sponsored by the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat.

APPOINTED FBI SPECIAL AGENT

James L. Startzell, 1940, has been promoted to assistant special agent in charge of the Norfolk, Virginia, FBI Office.

Prior to his new assignment, Mr. Startzell served five years on the FBI supervisory staff in Washington, D. C. Before that he worked in the Washington field office for eleven years as a special agent.

Startzell joined the FBI in 1942, after teaching business education at Barnesboro, Pennsylvania, High School for two years.

IN THE SERVICES

● Lt. John W. Gallagher, class of August, 1956, is serving as a systems evaluation officer at Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska. Lt. Gallagher recently competed in the Open Division of the World-Wide Championship Golf Tournament at Vandenberg AFB, California.

● Michael Frasca, 1964, of Altoona, Pa., has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Lieutenant Frasca has been assigned to a Strategic Air Command unit at Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyoming. His new unit supports the SAC mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

● Tom Gnibus, 1960, is currently serving as a Marine officer with the Marine Detachment, United States Naval Station, Trinidad, The West Indies.

Lt. Gnibus entered the Marine Corps following his graduation from Indiana and was assigned to the Officer Basic School at Quantico, Virginia. Later he was assigned to the Second Marine Division at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina.

Gnibus is married to the former Virginia Keverline, class of 1960. They have one son, Mark, who Tom says will also one day be an Indiana grad.

AS IT MUST TO ALL

● Marion Lamison Meyers, president of the Class of 1919, passed away at her home in Orlando, Florida, March 30, 1964. Her entire life, except for the two years just prior to her death, had been spent in Johnstown, where she taught Physical Education for a number of years before her marriage.

She was an active member of Eastern Star, and a life member of the Johnstown Y.W.C.A., having served as a Board member for many years.

Following her husband's retirement from the Johnstown Schools they had moved to Florida in the hope that Marion's health might improve. She enjoyed Florida and, characteristically, made a host of friends in her brief stay there.

● Mrs. William Bosserman (Ida L. Forsburg, 1911) died on February 5, 1964.

● Mrs. Minerva Walter Luchsinger, 1932, passed away May 12, 1964, at the Indiana Hospital. She had been an active member of the ISC Alumni Association.

● Carol Lee Citron, a student at Indiana from June 1962 to June 1964, was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Miami, Florida.

Also killed in the accident were Janet Citron Harrison, a sister, and Albert Citron, her father who attended Indiana in 1936 and again in 1939.

● Bertha McHenry Griffiths passed away June 24, 1964, following a long illness. Mrs. Griffiths was a graduate of Indiana High School in 1915 and of Indiana State College class of 1917.

For a number of years Mrs. Griffiths worked in the Bureau of Engravings and Printing in Washington, D. C. and also for several years as an artist in the Cleveland Art Museum.

Among her many survivors are Ferne and Margaret McHenry of Indiana, both of whom have been very active in alumni activities.

● Janet Guthrie Sligh, sister of Agnes Sligh Turnbull, died suddenly July 27, 1964. A graduate with the class of 1905, Miss Sligh taught in the primary grades until illness forced her to retire to a nursing home near her sister's residence in New Jersey.

Loyal to Indiana State College, active in YWCA and literary circles, and devoted to her teaching, Janet Sligh will be missed by the many men and women, and boys and girls with whom she shared her life.

● Mrs. Mildred Hill Binkley, 1917, passed away at her late home of 6427 Utah Avenue, Washington, D.C., on Tuesday, June 30, 1964, after a long illness.

● Mrs. Eva Stumpf George, 1905, of Spokane, Washington, died in June 1964.

● Mrs. Marie Miller Luby Dotson, 1926, died November 26, 1963.

Activities of the Alumni Units and Groups

THE 65TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE CLASS OF 1899

No members of older classes returned and Mary Edna Flegal represented the class of 1899.

This is her presentation.

"After 65 years, here we are, the class of 1899. Why are we here? Nostalgia. Isn't that why alumni return to Alma Mater? Why, I liked Indiana so much that I returned and spent 15 years as a member of the faculty and head of the Art Department.

"We spent 2 happy years at Indiana, the class of 1899. It was the end of the 'Gay Nineties,' and the end of some 30 years of comparative peace. No nuclear war threatened overhead, but the Spanish-American war was just in the offing.

"Besides being nostalgic we are possessive. No matter how much the faculty increase in numbers and scope and the physical plant expands, due largely to the efforts of successive presidents and reaching a climax with President Pratt, we feel we share in this progress.

"When we were students, John Sutton Hall, Clark Hall, and Wilson Hall were the only buildings. Classes were held in the lower floor of Sutton Hall, and Wilson Hall housed the Model School. Leonard Hall (the building that burned) was built 4 years later. There was no further building for 30 years when the Arts Building (now McElhane Hall) was built. This Arts Building launched the whole new building program. Now, look at the campus — it would take a guided tour in a helicopter to see it all.

"Return to the class of 1899— there were 101 of us, 76 women and 25 men. There are now living 17 women and 1 man, but there are 3 members of whom we do not know the whereabouts, living or dead.

"After 65 years we have present today — Dr. Gertrude Coffin Crandell, Mrs. Jean N. Crawford Mateer, Mrs. Blanche Creese Watson, Mrs. Edith Dodds Work, Mary Edna Flegal, Belle A. Hanna, and Mrs. Blanche St. Clair Daugherty.

"We haven't just lived, but we also have done things. I cite only two. Miss Hanna, an outstanding Pittsburgh teacher, held our class together by acting as president and secretary of the Dutch Club (1899's organization) which met twice a year in Pittsburgh.

"Next, I outline Dr. Gertrude Coffin Crandell's career — she taught before coming to Indiana; after graduation she married an M.D.; they had 3 sons and 2 daughters and when the oldest child was 9, the doctor died. Gertrude went to college and obtained an M.D. She then moved her family to Wooster, Ohio, where she gave her sons and daughters each a college education (1 son is an M.D., another son is a Ph.D.) while she was in private practice. Later she opened a sanitarium which she ran for 14 years before she retired. Then she gave the building to the College of Wooster for a dormitory for 24 students and kept only an office for herself. I challenge the senior girls to equal or top this record.

CLASS OF 1919 MEETS

For returning members of the Class of 1919, May 23, 1964, will be a memorable occasion. A large group arrived the previous evening and set out to find who had come back. Beulah Shuster Hill and Mary Hart Rinn were on hand to greet them.

The day was one of the most beautiful which May could offer and ideal for seeing the new buildings, several of which were dedicated during the afternoon. Following the Alumni meeting a delicious luncheon was served in the dining room with all members seated together. Nelle Dobson Chaplin, the class May Queen, responded for the class when called upon by Alumni President, Helen Brennan.

College Lodge presented an attractive setting for dinner. The grove was at its best, and the drive out was truly Spring. The tables were attractively done in the rustic style of the Lodge and carried out the class colors of brown and gold in arrangements of driftwood, candles and lillies.

Following dinner each class member gave a brief review of activities since the last reunion. Travel-wise, the earth has been covered. Many interesting experiences were related and colored movies enlivened the memories.

Fairy Clutter of the College English Department delighted the group with a humorous original reading of World's Fairs of Our Time.

The only note to mar the occasion was the absence of the class president, Marion Lamison Meyers, whose death had occurred in Florida just two months previously. Marion's enthusiasm always set the stage for a lively reunion. She will long be remembered for her love of people and her zest for living. In her memory those attending the reunion are placing several books in the College Library.

After a delightful day of visiting friends of forty-five years, and many thanks to the 'home-towners' Beulah Hill, Mary Rinn, Sarah St. Clair and Zaida Weaver, who have assumed a lifetime job for Reunion Arrangements, members departed with the comment "Best Ever", and a promise to return in five years for the Big 50.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION CLASS OF '39

On Alumni Day, May 23, the Business Administration class of '39 celebrated its 25th Anniversary on campus during the day. Thirty-one attended the evening banquet at Rustic Lodge. The Committee consisted of Kay Averill Jones, Jack Jones, Lorry McMinn, Virginia Clark May and Eileen Cole Riley.

Mrs. Edna Mae Smith

PHILADELPHIA UNIT

The Philadelphia Unit held its meeting at Pennsbury Inn, Morrisville on Saturday, June 6, 1964. Nineteen members and guests were present for luncheon.

Following a delicious luncheon, a short business meeting was held, after which a commentary and slides on South America and Africa were presented. Clinton L. Brown, past president of Wilmington, Delaware Kiwanis Club was both photographer and commentator.

The pictures were taken last year while Mr. and Mrs. Brown were on a 63-day ocean trip. Side trips into both countries were taken by plane. The pictures were extraordinary and the commentary most interesting and informative. We were most fortunate in having Mr. Brown. Thanks to John Federinko.

After the meeting a tour was taken of historic Pennsbury Manor, the restored summer home and gardens of William Penn on the banks of the Delaware River. Our fall meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carmon Ross (Mary Read) Doylestown.

Sara Patsy Watson High

PITTSBURGH UNIT

Due to illness Grace Lacock, our able and humorous correspondent, has given up writing the Alumni News Letter. At the September meeting the Unit made Grace an Honorary Unit Member — she is a Life Member.

At our September 8th meeting at Margaret North Bush's lovely home 38 attended — Imagine, we had four new memers: Val Berexa, Theresa Lloyd, Thelma Harris, and Sara Heverly.

We are pleased to know that Flossie W. Sanford has just finished serving as president of the Federation of Women' Clubs of Pennsylvania.

Many of our memers did some enjoyable traveling recently. Mary Fallon Pardini and her husband visited Colorado — the U. S. Air Force Academy, Estes Park, Central City and Denver.

Audrey Graham who recently retired after a long and fruitful career and a wonderful year as president of PSEA, motored with her sisters to Mt. Rushmore, Tetons, Yellowstone, Columbia River Gorge, Portland, Seattle, and Glacier Park.

Gladys Elcessor believes in seeing Pennsylvania, so she had short trips to Uniontown and Erie. I'm positive she was busy doing the many things Pittsburgh offers and helping her many friends.

Agnes Barnard has retired, so she spent the summer on an island in Maine. As our treasurer I'm sure she'll handle our dollars safely and well. No holdups.

Gertrude Barthol, Helen Brennan and Beatrice Harvey enjoyed the H. C. Frick Conference at the Wilson College in Chambersburg June 23 - July 10.

Helen Brennan and Rose McManus enjoyed a jaunt to Black Water Falls in West Virginia.

Armitage Coburn and her husband not only motored but sailed. They visited Nassau, Bermuda, Trinidad, Florida, Erie and Canada. Armitage is so talented and makes unusual favors and place cards for our parties.

Mary Jane Tuttle visited Bermuda and Stone Harbor, New Jersey. Incidentally, our next meeting will be held at Mary Jane's new home at Fox Chapel.

Thelma Harris and Jane Black cruised on Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence. Jane Black is on her second trip to Florida — there must be an attraction as well as a Cleo.

Edith Miller has traveled far and near. Lately she's been on a cruise to Northern Europe, North Cape, Finland and Russia.

Margaret Shiels and her husband were in the British Isle for nine weeks — they toured Ireland, Scotland and England. Then they traveled to Nova Scotia and Canada.

Sara Heverly retired from the Swissvale Schools, then went by plane on a trip around the world. Where next, Sara???

Hazel Stephens, Mary Longwill and her sister Lorraine Thompson went to the World's Fair, then cruised to the West Indies, San Juan, St. Thomas and Bermuda. Mary declares she'll be at home now but we wonder.

Jane Black and Mildred France made a supplement to our Year Book — so we can readily say to both of these willing workers — "Well done."

Laura Belle Cawley spent three weeks in the hospital; we are glad she is able to return to her teaching.

Helen MacWilliams, our friendly President, is doing splendidly steering our group and we are grateful to her.

F. Elizabeth Piper

JOHNSTOWN UNIT

The Johnstown Unit held a bridge-luncheon at the Westmont Dairy Dell on Wednesday, June 10. Twenty-nine members and their guests attended. A short business meeting was called by the president, Mrs. Lillian Sann, to discuss plans for the coming year. Miss Blanche Ober was selected chairman of a nominating committee to draw up a slate of officers for the election at the fall meeting. Dues were collected.

Dianne Aikey

PITTSBURGH-NORTH BOROUGH'S UNIT

The delightful Spring Luncheon was held at the University Club on May 9, with a large attendance of members and friends. Arrangements were made by Fannie Evans Baird, Edna Duysters Kappel and Adele Giammartini Bauer. The food was delicious, the weather beautiful, and everyone was in gay spirits.

Our president, Miss Catharine Taylor, presided; the invocation was given by Sylvia Smith Higbee and a hearty and sincere welcome was extended to our former president, Miss Mildred Pauch, upon her return from hospitalization for surgery.

Dr. Trevor Hadley, Dean of Students at the College, was the guest of honor and the speaker of the afternoon.

Dr. Hadley was the Pennsylvania member of the group of educators who had spent four months in Liberia, Africa, conducting workshops and otherwise instructing the local teachers. This educational project was sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

Dr. Hadley supplemented his interesting, informative and challenging address with pictures he had taken while in Liberia.

A question and answer period brought to a close the much enjoyed and appreciated treat of having Dr. Hadley share his wonderful Liberian experience with us.

Our annual June picnic was held Friday, June 19, at the home of our president, Miss Catharine Taylor, in Sewickley, Pa. Her sister, Miss Georgiana Taylor and the alumni members of the Sewickley group of our Unit, assisted her in preparing a delicious luncheon served at beautifully decorated and appointed tables.

A business meeting followed and plans were completed for the agenda of the new year. The first event will be a fall-get-together and picnic with Miss Dorothy Falk, our vice president, in charge.

The members of the unit were saddened by the death of Miss Bertha Mensch of the Class of 1906 and a life member, as well as an untiring worker of our Pittsburgh-North Boroughs Unit.

The June meeting ended with hearty thank-you's, farewells and best wishes for a happy summer to all.
